

Summerset Series: Understanding Dementia

Are you close to someone with early signs of dementia?

Dementia New Zealand and Summerset are hosting a series of free public talks on dementia around New Zealand.

You might be a caregiver, a concerned friend or family member. Come and hear expert advice about what the symptoms of dementia are, aren't, and where you can get support in your area.

Dementia New Zealand supports the delivery of high quality services by dementia organisations working in local communities. Its organisations cover 70 percent of New Zealand.
